Guidance and definitions

As Norway has signed international agreements to report tax information, FATCA and CRS, we are required to provide information to the Norwegian Tax Administration about customers who are tax resident in one of the countries that have signed the above-mentioned agreements. The Tax Administration forwards this information to the respective countries.

All information we receive in this connection is treated confidentially in accordance with the bank's duty of confidentiality and will not be used for any other purposes.

As DNB cannot provide tax advice, we ask you to contact your local tax authorities if you have questions on how to complete the self-declaration form.

For more information about international tax reporting, see the website of the Norwegian Tax administration: International reporting (CRS and FATCA).

What is the FATCA agreement?

As Norway and the United States have entered into an agreement on the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA), DNB is, as a financial institution, required to report financial assets to the Norwegian tax authorities, which will forward the information to the US tax authorities.

US citizens are resident for tax purposes in the US and will be reported on the basis of their citizenship.

What is the CRS agreement?

The Common Reporting Standard (CRS) is an international framework for the automatic exchange of information on financial assets between tax authorities in different countries. More than 100 countries have signed the agreement, including Norway and all EU member states

Tax residence

In Norway you will be deemed to be a tax resident if you have stayed in the country for more than 183 days in the course of a 12-month period, or for more than 270 days during a 36-month period. If you live outside Norway, you will usually be tax resident in the country you live in. If you are in doubt about whether you are tax resident in a country, you must contact the tax authorities in the relevant country to clarify this.

Tax Identification Number, TIN

This is the number used by the tax authorities and other agencies to identify individual persons. The number will typically be found on documents received from the tax authorities, but can in some cases also be found in passports, national ID cards, driver's licences and other official documents.

Examples of TIN

DK: CPR number (private individuals), SE: Personal identity number (private individuals), NO: National identity number (private individuals) or D number (temporary), FI: Social security number (private individuals), United States: Social security number (private individuals).

More information about the various countries' TIN numbers can be found at www.oecd.org.
